

HELP YOUR HOST Penny Game

What's Needed:

12 Gadgets (key chains, magnets, tiny treasures etc...)

6 small sheets of paper that read PICK A FREE GIFT

6 small sheets of paper that read PICK A FREE GIFT & PICK A DATE FOR A PARTY

A piece of TW to put your gadgets in – Rectangle 1 Modular Mate works great!

Give everyone a penny at the beginning of the party and tell them you explain how they can use it before the party is over. At the end of the party let them know that this is the last game of the night. And you play it at the end of every party because it's a "Help Your Host" kind-of-game. Here's where the penny comes in . . . let them know that they can use their penny in 1 of 3 ways:

1. They can apply it to their order. . .A penny saved is a penny earned!
2. They can apply to the Host's party total. . .A few cents can make the difference
3. They can buy a special Tupperware Gadget from my collection

After you say that, proceed to let them know that they will want something from your collection. Then demonstrate just a few of the gadgets from your collection – preferably the gadgets that have PICK A DATE FOR A PARTY in them. Next, I point out that each gadget has a note inside, which is how you can 'HELP YOUR HOST' tonight. Because when you use your penny to buy a gadget, you'll also get the note that's inside! 6 of my notes say PICK A FREE GIFT, so be sure to take the one that you really want because that will be your free gift to take with you. The other 6 of my notes say PICK A FREE GIFT & PICK A DATE FOR A PARTY, and that means that you will help your host earn their Bonus Gifts by scheduling a date & time with me for your Tupperware party. Since there are lots of different ways of being a Tupperware host these days – it's sort of a win-win proposition for everyone involved! And you have a 50/50 chance of winning!

Before I offer everyone of you the opportunity to play my HELP YOUR HOST Penny Game, I just want to be sure that everyone understands how it works. If you were to choose a gadget that had a note that said PICK A FREE GIFT, what would you expect from me? To let you keep that Free Gift, right?! So, if you were to choose a gadget with the note that said PICK A DATE FOR A PARTY, what would I expect from you? To pick a date for a party, that's right!

Go to each guest and ask them how they would like to use their penny. Tell everyone to wait until everyone has traded their penny, then have everyone open their gadgets at the same time! Tell them if they chose a gadget that says PICK A DATE FOR A PARTY, that they should shout Yahoo! Because not only have they HELPED THEIR HOST, but it's their turn next to earn Free Tupperware.
