

$$$ SHOW ME THE MONEY $$$

Personal Qualified Recruits are not only what moves a focused leader up in the Career Plan - there is also more $$$ to be earned in the process! A percentage may sound insignificant until you take a look at this . . .

If the Recruiter is a Director w/Team sales of $10,000, that is $450 in Royalties; however

- 1 qualified recruit = addt'l 2% or $150 more
- 2 qualified recruits = addt'l 5% or $375 more
- 3 qualified recruits = addt'l 6% or $450 more

If the Recruiter is a DI Q w/Team sales of $7000, that is $210 in Royalties; however

- 1 qualified recruit = addt'l 2% or $105 more
- 2 qualified recruits = addt'l 5% or $262.50 more
- 3 qualified recruits = addt'l 6% or $315.00

If the Recruiter is a Star Manager w/Team sales of $7000, that is $210 in Royalties; however

- 1 qualified recruit = addt'l 2% or $105 more
- 2 qualified recruits = addt'l 4% or $210 more
- 3 qualified recruits = addt'l 5% or $262.50 more

If the Recruiter is a Star Manager w/Team sales of $4000, that is $120 in Royalties; however

- 1 qualified recruit = addt'l 2% or $60 more
- 2 qualified recruits = addt'l 4% or $120 more
- 3 qualified recruits = addt'l 5% or $150 more

If the Recruiter is a Manager w/Team sales of $2000, that is $60 in Royalties; however

- 1 qualified recruit = addt'l 2% or $30 more
- 2 qualified recruits = addt'l 3% or $45 more
- 3 qualified recruits = addt'l 4% or $60 more

So the Question is . . .

Why do we leave $$$ on Tupperware's table???
